Welcome to USDairy.com

Finding the resources you need to save time and increase sales is simple. To get started, follow these tips:

Start with the search box
The search box is located in the upper right corner of every page on USDairy.com. Type a word or phrase into the box and click the magnifying glass icon.

You’ll then be taken to a new page listing the most relevant results, and most will feature a brief description.

Narrow your results
Did you get too many results? Or not exactly what you need? In the left-hand column of the search results page, you’ll see options for refining your search. We’ve divided these into a number of categories:

- Dairy products: Milk, cheese, yogurt, whey or other
- Value chain: On farm, Research and development, Processing and manufacturing, Retail and distribution, Food service, Exports, Marketing and claims or Consumer trends
- Research areas: Business opportunity, Consumer insights, Global markets, Nutrition and health, Product development or Sustainability
- Tools: Abstracts, Business cases, Fact sheet and FAQs, Formulations, Messaging, Monographs, News articles, Press releases, Published research, Webinars and presentations or White papers
- Date: Past six months, Past year or All results

Click the box beside any number of these items to refine your search. Each time you select an option, such as “On farm” under “Value chain,” your search results will show only resources from the option(s) you chose. In this case, you’d only see On farm resources related to your search term. Click the check mark to remove any of these filters from your search.

Search on your own
If you want to browse the various topic areas on USDairy.com, you can find the page listing at the bottom of any page on this site.
